

At Pearl Planning, we help you bring your goals into focus, coach you through achievable steps, and give you confidence to make financial decisions aligned with your goals. If you are ready to start planning your future, please contact us to schedule a meeting.

2021 Guided Pearls Financial Action Plan is a practical tool to keep your money organized throughout the year, and to help support you on your path to reaching your financial goals.

This planner is based on the Pearl Planning #52Pearls social media campaign, which offers weekly financial wisdom in bite-sized nuggets. If you would like more tips and tools like those you'll find in this planner, please visit us at our website (pearlplan.com/52pearls), or follow us on Facebook (@PearlPlanningWealth) or LinkedIn (#NoGritNoPearl).

Wishing you a lustrous year!

Financial goals are the foundation of a financial plan. They need to be updated and revisited over time.

Take some time to create or edit your goals.

Prioritize and visualize them. Make sure they're SMART: Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic, and Timely.

You've got to vizualize where you're headed and be very clear about it.

Take a polaroid picture of where you're going to be in a few years. —Sara Blakely

If you need a little boost of your financial knowledge, you're not alone. This is not an easy Pearl to tackle. To get started, take the time to study one financial concept that you don't understand. Whether stopping by the library to check out a personal finance book or searching investment concepts online, take a minute to get up to speed on this concept.

Feeling insecure about your knowledge of money concepts?

Make a list of terms to research to boost your confidence.

America's culture is all about freedom and independence. With the possibility of freedom comes responsibility. When it comes to money, you need to take ownership of your personal financial independence. If you're not sure where you're at, make a commitment to yourself to review and improve your retirement preparation and financial plan.

What would/does retirement look and feel like for you? Not the dollars and cents, but how you spend your time and find your purpose.

Take some time to visualize.

The end of the year can be hectic, filled with traditions and obligations. There are also some deadlines related to money decisions – charitable contributions, Roth conversions, and some retirement contributions may need to be made before January. Give yourself some time now to plan and make these last few months count.

What have you achieved so far this year that makes you proud?

Write it down and congratulate yourself for a job well done.
